Welcome

I'd like to welcome you to the fourth issue of Q-News, published for the community. We are excited that this newsletter will be published bi-monthly.

I trust that every one of you who would grab a copy of this newsletter would find it quite helpful, informative, and of course, entertaining. All of the articles here are well-researched and truly curated only to cater to what we think will be useful to our readers.

We are very proud to welcome to the QOHCF family, our new team members, who are amazing business men and women bringing articles on safety, security, real estate advice, finances and more.

Be sure to look out for that!

Again, welcome to Q-News. If you have questions or feedback regarding the articles or the newsletter in general, please don't hesitate to reach out through email or phone. We look forward to having you come on board.

IS IT POSSIBLE? CREATE A MORE INCLUSIVE WORLD

What is International Womens Day?

International Women's Day (March 8) is a global day celebrating the social, economic, cultural and political achievements of women. The day also marks a call to action for accelerating gender parity.

International Women's Day (IWD) has been observed since in the early 1900's - a time of great expansion and turbulence in the industrialized world that saw booming population growth and the rise of radical ideologies. International Women's Day is a collective day of global celebration and a call for gender parity. No one government, NGO, charity, corporation, academic institution, women's network or media hub is solely responsible for International Women's Day. Many organizations declare an annual IWD theme that supports their specific agenda or cause, and some of these are adopted more widely with relevance than others.
